

We Only Want the Earth 2021 Artist Residency Award 1

A4 Sounds in partnership with Create: National Development Agency for Collaborative Arts and Transgender Equality Network Ireland (TENI) invite applications from trans, nonbinary, and gender nonconforming artists for a four-month residency award as part of the We Only Want the Earth 2021 programme. The residency will run from February to May 2021. The residency opportunity aims to support an artist based in Ireland to develop their arts practice.

Deadline: 5pm, Monday 18th January 2021

About We Only Want the Earth

We are living through a time of sudden and unpredictable social change caused by interlinked issues of global warming, the collapse of the neoliberal order, a resurgence of violent misogyny and nationalism, growing inequality, housing and homelessness crises, and the growth of ecofascism. We Only Want the Earth is a 12-month programme of awards, exhibitions, and events that seeks to interrogate the goals and strategies of social change: what kind of society do we want and how should we get there?

More information about our programme here.

About the award

A central aim of the We Only Want the Earth programme is to give material support and a platform to artists who are often silenced, or who are spoken about rather than listened to. As part of meeting this aim, this 4-month residency award will support a trans, nonbinary, and/or gender nonconforming artist to develop and exhibit a body of work, and will provide the selected artist with an opportunity to make contacts and identify resources that might help them to further develop their artistic practice.

Please note: the artist is free to work on any topic of their choosing; there is no requirement that the work deal with issues of gender identity.

Proposals must respond to the theme 'We Only Want the Earth'.

What the award involves

The award includes

- Free 24-hour access to studio space at A4 Sounds.
- A monthly stipend of €900 towards materials and residency costs (Total €3,600).
- Artist fees of €690 for exhibiting a body of work and artist talks
- A dedicated website for outcomes and digital dissemination*
- Access to a range of professional development, training and technical supports.
- Access to the facilities at A4 Sounds, including personal and shared workspace, sculpture workshop, photography darkroom, printing suite and equipment.
- Gallery space and a materials/exhibition budget of up to €1000 will be provided to support an exhibition or series of dissemination events during the last month of the residency.
- Access to all A4 Sounds public workshops and courses for the duration of the residency.

Throughout the residency, advice and mentorship will be provided by A4 Sounds technicians and curators, a dedicated community engagement worker, and representatives from gender.RIP, Create (the national development agency for collaborative arts), and Transgender Equality Network Ireland (TENI).

*This residency takes place in a timeframe which may experience changing restrictions and gallery closures due to the ongoing covid-19 pandemic. To ensure that the selected artist is supported to exhibition we will work with them to develop digital outcomes and an immersive website that will act as a standalone body of work in the case of gallery closures, and complementary to a physical exhibition if galleries remain open.

Please note: this residency does not include accommodation as part of the award.

Aims & Expectations of the Residency

The selected artist is expected to

- Be available to work from the studio for the duration of the residency.
- Participate in studio life and take full advantage of resources and learning opportunities available.
- To disseminate their work in at least 2 ways.
- We will work with the successful artist to document their progress and ask that aspects of the documentation be made available to A4 for use.

Please note: this residency carries a significant workload for the successful applicant and will require a full-time commitment. We have included a schedule template with our application form to help you map your time and to ensure what you are proposing is feasible and manageable for you.

However, we do understand you may have additional work commitments to support your living costs. If you do, please keep these in mind when writing your proposal, and describe how you will balance those commitments and your studio time.

Who is eligible?

We invite applications from artists who are trans, nonbinary, and gender nonconforming, who are currently based in the Greater Dublin area.

Unfortunately, due to unpredictable changes in restrictions due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, we are limiting applications to artists based in the greater Dublin area only for 2021.

What types of proposals are we seeking?

We invite radical, risk taking, bold, mischievous, and political proposals. This is a visual arts award, but we welcome proposals from artists with multidisciplinary approaches where the proposed outcomes can be disseminated in visual ways.

We are keen to hear from artists who use a wide range of approaches to explore their ideas; including but not limited to: socially engaged, collaboration, protest, organizing, writing, sound, conversation, food, performance, video, media, sculpture, research, installation and print.

Please note that during the timeframe of this residency we may be affected by changing restrictions due to the COVID-19 pandemic. With this in mind, do consider how your proposal may work with possible changing restrictions.

Accessibility

Unfortunately, the A4 Sounds studio building is not fully accessible. The studio space and bathrooms are accessed via a flight of stairs (approx. 22 steps) which may provide difficulties for people with movement impairments. We understand that this may exclude some artists from applying for the award, and we apologise for this. We hope to source funding to make the building more accessible in future.

How to apply

To apply please:

1. Read in full about our programme here.
2. Read our open call and complete the application form here.

Selection process

Selection will be made by a panel that includes representatives from A4 Sounds, Create, gender.RIP, and TENI. The open call will be advertised through usual visual arts channels as well as other networks such as through agencies who support trans, nonbinary, and gender nonconforming people in Ireland.

Applications will be accessed on the following criteria:

1. How the proposal responds to the theme We Only Want the Earth
2. Artistic quality of the proposed work
3. Artistic quality of previous work
4. Potential of the artist to develop their artistic practice and how the award will benefit the artist
5. Feasibility of the proposed work within the timeframe of the award (3-4 months)

The Assessment Process and Timeframe

Proposals received are processed as follows:

1. Proposals acknowledged by email
2. Proposals checked for eligibility – all eligible proposals then progress to the assessment stage
3. A selection panel reviews all proposals, associated materials, then scores and makes decisions
4. Decisions are communicated in via email to applicants by Jan 28th
5. Applicants may seek feedback on their applications for two weeks after receiving the panels' decision.

About A4 Sounds & Our Partners

A4 Sounds

A4 Sounds is a non-profit artist-run workspace and gallery in north-inner-city Dublin. It is one of the biggest artist-led spaces in Ireland, currently providing facilities and professional development supports to 80 artists. Its mission is to transform the means by which cultural works are produced, accessed, and understood in Ireland, and by doing so to contribute to the development of a more just society. Guided by feminist, anti-racist, anti-capitalist, and LGBT-inclusive politics, A4 Sounds supports artists and activists who fight for change.

Create: National Development Agency for Collaborative Art

Create is the national development agency for collaborative arts in social and community contexts. Create supports artists across all artforms who work collaboratively with communities in different social and community contexts, be they communities of place or those brought together by interest. They seek to foster current and future potential for collaboration between artists and communities, encouraging art projects that reflect the exciting ways in which collaborative arts represent a complex range of ideas and approaches. As a resource organisation we offer supports for artists working in social and community contexts. These include professional development, mentoring, project development support, commissioning and project opportunities as well as research and training. Create believes that by working together, artists and communities can purposefully explore how collaborative arts engage in distinct, relevant and powerful ways with the urgent social, cultural and political issues of our times.

www.create-ireland.ie

Transgender Equality Network Ireland (TENI)

TENI is a non-profit organisation supporting the trans community in Ireland. Their vision is a world where all people regardless of gender identity or expression, enjoy full acceptance, equality and human rights. Their mission is to advance the rights and equality, and improve the lives of trans people and their families. TENI's goals are to be a strong, sustainable organisation created by trans people for trans people. They work so that trans people are able to access all the services they need and for those services to be trans friendly and inclusive. They aim for trans people to be celebrated, valued and enjoy the freedoms and opportunities to thrive and to work towards a society free from discrimination, transphobia and oppression.

www.teni.ie

create national development agency for collaborative arts

Transgender
Equality
Network
Ireland

Consulting Artists for the residency: gender.RIP gender.RIP is a trans-led, anti-capitalist collective of artists ready to kill gender. Known for their exhibitions, community events, and workshops which centre joy and creativity; they aim to carve out trans-centred leisure spaces which are an oasis from the wider world. Their events are open to anyone who is trans, nonbinary or gender non-conforming; who exists outside of the western gender binary; or who is gender-questioning.

www.gender.rip

We Only Want the Earth is kindly supported by The Arts Council's Arts Grant Funding 2021.

Privacy & Your Information

Data Protection

A4 Sounds acknowledges its responsibility to safeguard the personal data of applicants to and beneficiaries of the residency award. Privacy and data protection rights are important to us and we are committed to protecting the privacy of individuals in relation to processing of personal data that we may seek, collect, and use or disclose. A4 Sounds will treat all personal information volunteered or sought with the highest standards of security and confidentiality, in accordance with data protection law and regulation and best practice approaches.

Data Management

A4 Sounds may seek, collect, and use or disclose personal information as part of its management of the We Only Want the Earth Awards. Information collected through the application process is used solely for the purpose of the management of the awards. Personal data will not be disclosed to any external third party, without consent, except where it is necessary to comply with statutory requirements. Application forms and supporting materials will be deleted after the selection process is complete.